Power of an Idea
All About Peace League
You May Skip It
It May Not Skip You
—By Arthur Brisbane—

Study in Russia the power of an idea. Among the Allies Russia was the weak sister. Poor fighting, poor ammunition, no results. Then came the breakdown, the dinosaur of the northeast seemed dead. Germany skinned the remains at Brest-Litovsk. The war went on with Russia eliminated. "Poor, broken-down Russia!" said everybody.

Then came the IDEA. It was for liberty. Perhaps it was the right idea, perhaps the wrong one. We don't know. Ideas are not finally labelled until they succeed or fail. But it was a real idea, with the power and enthusiasm of millions of men behind it.

Today it menaces Europe and is easily the most powerful thing on the earth. Th. nations of Europe all fear it, the world's stock exchanges shiver when it is mentioned. The ambassadors of all nations were hastily called together in Paris yesterday to deal with it.

Will it rule the world? No, "The Lord sees to it that trees do not grow into the heavens."

Will workmen's Soviets establish and maintain permanently successful governments? They will not. Intelligence rules in the end always, intelligence and education.

Will all the problems of men be solved and all their sorrows wiped out by "Destroying the great and giving the little man a chance?" No, for trouble and sorrow are the training school of human beings, to end them would stop progress. Individuals and nations never go upstairs a whole flight at a time, and two hundred millions, four-fifths of them unable to read, are not to rule for long, if at all.

But they might, for a while, wipe out civilization as we understand and have established it, as the visigoths, long beards, many tribes and kinds, from the same rough northeast, once wiped out what was left of the civilization of Greece and Rome, dragging the dark ages in behind them.

A northern barbarian, clad in rough skins, once sat on the Cæsars' throne at Rome. A Bolshevik, with short jacket and cloth cap, Lenin, might one day sleep where Mr. Wilson slept, in Buckingham Palace, not as an invited guest, but with considerable more influence.

The King, on trial, might hear himself called "Comrade George." Russia ruling Europe and directing Asia, might start war against this continent, the remaining stronghold of the old idea.

However, instead of worrying about that, let us put our minds on the truth that an idea is all-powerful, realizing that, possibly, this nation also might, with the right idea, get or keep what it wants.

Will friends of the wonderful peace league tell why that grand organization, supposed to "stop all war," stands shivering before Russia?

France, England, Italy, many other countries are in the league. Why does it not work?

Is the answer, "Because America is not in the league?" If so what was America supposed to do? THE WHOLE THING? The answer to that might interest even peace league fanatics.

England has reason to fear and fight Russia. She would make an ugly neighbor across the channel, or even as a commentator on the Mediterranean, India and elsewhere. France has reason to hate Bolshevism. The Russian debt to France amounts, with interest, to more than thirty thousand million francs, a large sum to lose. Lenin, repudiating the debt, asks, "Why did you French republicans lend your money to an autocrat to be spent against his people?"

That is not a question easy to answer, for THIS republic, and it is none of our business to answer it. The French can say they financed the Czar because they feared Germany. But what can this country offer as an excuse for meddling in the Russian matter?

Red Jacket, the wise Indian, said to the missionaries, "If you white men killed your God, that is your affair, and you should be punished. But why come and worry us about it? We did not do it. Had he come to us we should have treated him kindly."

It took an intelligent missionary to make an Indian understand that he was responsible for what white men had done five thousand miles away, and eighteen hundred years before.

It will take a superlatively intelligent peace league missionary to make Americans understand that they are responsible for what Europeans have been doing to each other during centuries past, and that Americans ought to send their young men to be shot and their billions to be spent in the effort to crush two hundred million human beings that believe they are fighting for freedom and a better world.

Time enough for that when they bother us, and may it not be soon.

PONZI TELLS SECRET

Mystery Man Shows How He Made Millions

SALE OF POSTAL REPLY COUPONS FILED COFFERS, HE SAYS

Charles Ponzi today told for the first time in detail how he did business.

He insisted that his profits were made in buying and selling international reply certificates, and declared the business was still going on in Europe.

For $10,000, he said, he could obtain a return of $400,000 in less than a month, and this in spite of any of the postal agreements now in effect. He could take in now, he added, $500,000 in one day in dealing with certificates, and guarantee 50 per cent in forty-five days.

"It is easily done if you know how," he said. "At the time when the exchange rates were the lowest, I would send $10,000, say, over to Europe, and in less than a month that money would increase to $400,000. Of course, I didn't get the entire $400,000, as my agents in Europe went fifty-fifty with me. I made $200,000, however, on coupons, buying and selling.

"I would buy $10,000 worth in France, and sell in Belgium; buy in Belgium and sell in Holland; buy in Holland, sell in Germany; buy in Germany, sell in Switzerland; buy in Switzerland, sell in Italy; buy in Italy, sell in France; buy in France, sell in Spain. Then the $10,000 would be $400,000."

"Asked if this were being done now, Ponzi replied: "As far as I know, it is."

Ponzi's story followed the exclusive news in the American of the finding of the mystery man's agent in Europe by an agent of Thomas D. Soriero, a Boston theatrical man.

"Soriero's agent," said Ponzi, "may have stumbled on some of my agents. However, I don't think Attorney-General Allen understands yet how the money was made. It was all made in international reply coupons."

Edwin L. Pride, Federal auditor engaged in probing Ponzi's affairs, denies making the statement credited to him by another afternoon newspaper to the effect that "in his opinion 'Ponzi was O. K.'" Asked by an American reporter if he made this statement, Mr. Pride replied emphatically: "Absolutely no. I never made such a statement in my life."

WAR PLANS BEGUN BY BRITAIN

Reported Ready to Call for Volunteers to Interfere in Poland's Behalf

By International News Service.

London, Aug. 5.—Great Britain today began war preparations to intervene in behalf of Poland, according to the Evening News.

Steps are being taken for the mobilization of the British navy on a war footing, the newspaper stated.

The government is reported to be considering the calling of volunteers for service in Poland.

"We have occupied Ciechanowiec (Ciechanof), eighty miles southwest of the fortress of Grodno," said a Soviet War Office communique wireless from Moscow today. "We have advanced along the Bug River to the junction of the Narew River."

The Narew River flows into the Bug sixty miles northeast of Warsaw.

The East Prussian frontier has been closed near Neidenburg, where the

NEW AUTO STEALING ARRESTS

Dillon Among Those Involved; No Action Against Cambridge Police

Warrants for the arrest of four men charged with complicity in the Greater Boston auto thefts were issued by Judge Almy in Cambridge District Court today.

The warrants were for John F. (Chick) Dillon, friend of Herman L. Barney; James McKeever, James F. Smith and Samuel Fine, a junk dealer of First street, East Cambridge.

Dillon and McKeever are charged with the theft of an automobile owned by Dr. Walter C. Pedey of Cambridge in 1918. Fine and Smith are charged with receiving the stolen machine.

Surprise was general at the outcome of the hearing before Judge Almy. It had been generally predicted that police officials would be among those for whom warrants would be issued.

LEAVES COURT SMILING.

Among the witnesses summoned was Police Lieutenant Thomas F. Chady of Cambridge. He was accompanied by his counsel, John F. Feeney. Condy was the last witness. He left the courtroom smiling.

Samuel Fine, for whom a warrant was issued, was one of the first witnesses, and was arrested in the corri-

70 Occupants of Government Owned Houses Get Notices to Vacate

The controversy between the United States of America and tenants of its emergency homes at Quincy Point took another step towards wholesale victory or adjustment by the courts today, when the heads of seventy families received notices reading as follows:

"Following the conditions of the lease signed by you, calling for a month's notice to vacate, we beg to advise that this is official notice to vacate and deliver the premises at ——— not later than September 1.

Yours truly,

"United States Housing Corporation,

"By Ray W. Greg, Collector."

President W. K. Hanscomb of the Tenants' Association describes the condition of the seventy families affected, and seventy more who anticipate similar action, as "critical in the extreme."

"The principal trouble," Hanscomb said, "is that these people cannot find

Polish Babies Die as Mothers Flee 'Reds'

By International News Service.

Paris, Aug. 5.—Hundreds of babies died in their mothers' arms in the flight of Polish refugees before the Bolshevik advance into Poland, according to a Warsaw dispatch to Red Cross headquarters here today.

The telegram said that Poland is threatened with famine next Winter, regardless of the outcome of the Russo-Poland negotiations.

The sky behind the battle front is black with the smoke of burning houses. It is regarded as certain in Warsaw that a large part of the crops has been destroyed.

There's no excuse for them or they are ladies' men, but not me it's different. I don't know many girls and I guess that's what accounts for my present state. Ghouls Exhume and Decapitate Body

A ghoulish crime offering every necessary element of a Sherlock Holmes story was reported to the State police today after the Malden detective force had been at work upon it in secret since Monday without apparent result.

When Foreman J. J. McDermott noted the rounds of Holy Cross cemetery on Monday morning he was startled to find a headless body sitting beside a newly reopened grave at the southern end of the burial ground close to the Everett-Malden line and about 255 feet from Lynn street.

Investigation showed that the remains were those of Casper Bell, who died in South Boston on October 12, 1912, at the age of eighty-five, and was buried beside his wife, Margaret, who was seventy-four when she passed away on March 12, 1907.

The ghouls who opened the last grave last Sunday night dragged the old man's body from the casket and pulled the head from the trunk. Then they set the rest of the body up as McDermot found it, with the head hanging over into the open grave and the back leaning against a pile of dirt. A slipper was missing from one foot. It was found in the grave. Police are searching for the missing head.

Policemen and detectives who visited the grave all asked the same question: "Why?" and investigation has failed to produce any acceptable answer. McDermott reported his find to the cemetery authorities and the mystery was turned over to the police.

The last grave is in a remote corner of the graveyard, within easy access to any who might motor up through Lynn street late at night. Not far away is the spot where Billy Donovan was murdered several years ago by "Kid" Carlyo.

MOTHER FINDS ROXBURY GIRL DEAD IN BATHROOM

Fourteen-year-old Florence E. Wright was found dead in the bathroom of her home at No. 51 Vernon street, Roxbury. The discovery was made by the girl's mother, who said that the bathroom was filled with the odor of gas at the time, although the gas jet was not open.

MYSTERIOUS AUTO FOUND IN WOBURN

Weighted down with camping equipment and other material, a Packard touring car owned by Robert R. Bailey of Concord, N. H., was found hidden in bushes near the John Cummings estate off Cambridge road, Woburn, early today. Policeman Sweeney took the car to the garage of John H. Bates & Son. The authorities are investigating to see if the machine was stolen.

RUSSIA CLOSING "CORRIDOR" BETWEEN WARSAW AND DANTZIG

Russians are reported to have concentrated a considerable force of cavalry.

The threat of allied military intervention to save Poland from annihilation loomed stronger today. According to the Daily Express the British army council has made arrangements to mobilize two army corps on an hour's notice.

All of the British newspapers hint that momentous events may hinge upon the outcome of the conference of Premier Lloyd George and tomorrow with M. Krassin and M. Kamenoff, heads of the Bolshevik trade mission in London.

SECRET TREATY CHARGED.

The Times openly charges that Soviet Russia concluded a secret treaty with Germany a few weeks before the offensive against Poland began. The main provisions, according to the Times, were as follows:

1—Russia to appropriate all of Poland's arms, ammunition, foodstuffs and railway rolling stock without interference from Germany.

2—After Poland was crushed the Russians were to "evacuate Polish soil in favor of Germany."

The Times says it understands that the latest communication sent by Great Britain to Moscow was couched in the language of an ultimatum.

While the government do not attempt to minimize the seriousness of the situation and the threat of a new European war, the Daily Telegraph expresses the belief that, even if the peace proceedings between Russia and Poland collapse completely, a continuation of the "Russian border state" will still be held in London. This newspaper suggests that the collaboration of the United States be enlisted to help compose the quarrels of Eastern Europe.

REPORT BRODY RECAPTURED.

While the French Foreign Office reported that the Polish counter-offensive in Volhynia had collapsed, private dispatches from Warsaw today said that Polish operations were proceeding favorably. The Poles were reported to have recaptured Brody, but this has not been confirmed and is doubted in military circles.

Great numbers of Polish refugees are pouring across the Prussian frontier into Germany, Berlin reported today that 2,000 Poles had reached there from Warsaw and others were arriving.

Italy fears entanglements in the Eastern European war and is taking steps to prevent it. The following dispatch was received from the Berlin branch of the International News Service:

"It is learned that the Italian ambassador has requested the German government to arrange immediately for the withdrawal of Italians from the East Prussian plebiscite territory to prevent Russo-Italian incidents."

CLOSING THE "CORRIDOR."

Allied military experts frankly admit that they are puzzled as to how troops could be sent into Poland. The Russian arms of invasion in Poland are closing the "corridor" between Warsaw and Dantzig, the only free artery of traffic between Poland and the outside world. Germany has proclaimed neutrality and announces she will not allow allied troops to cross her soil in Poland. It would not be feasible to attempt to send troops by way of Austria and Czecho-Slovakia.

A Warsaw dispatch dated Wednesday said that the twenty members of the Polish armistice commission had returned from Bolshevist lines and were conferring with the Polish council of national defense on the Russian demand that the Polish envoys be empowered to discuss peace terms as well as the truce.

This dispatch admitted that the Russians had crossed the Bug River Rog in their sweep toward the Polish capital from the north, but said that the Polish battleline west of Brest Litovsk was holding firm. South of Brest Litovsk the Poles were carrying out an orderly retreat while making strong counter attacks against the Russian left flank in sector of Galicia and Volhynia.

Reports Allied Troops Will Be Sent; Clemenceau Warns U. S.

Paris, Aug. 5—It is understood in Mayence headquarters of the French army of occupation in Germany, that orders have been issued to begin the transportation of allied troops across Bavaria and Bohemia to Poland," said a Basle dispatch to the Information today. The dispatch said that the Bavarian authorities had announced the Bavarian population would use every means to prevent the transportation of troops through that country.

It was stated at the Foreign Office that nothing was known of any military order to begin sending French troops to Poland.

The Rumanian legation today denied that the Rumanian army had been mobilized for war against Russia.

The Polish government will leave Warsaw tomorrow night unless the Russian advance is checked, according to a dispatch from that city today. Large forces of Polish volunteers are working night and day strengthening defenses of the Polish capital.

LIQUOR-LOADED AUTO CAUGHT AS TIRE BURSTS

Ashton, Me., Aug. 5—Pursuit of an alleged rum runner by Androscoggin deputy sheriffs came to a sudden end when a rear tire on the fleeing automobile burst, the machine skidded and turned around, crushing a rear wheel. Alcohol valued at $1,800 was seized, and the deputies arrested Robert Buggiere, forty, of Middle street, Portland, and Miss Marion A. Kell, twenty-five, of Woodfords, a suburb of Portland.

ASKS HIGH POLL TAX FOR BONUSES IN MAINE

China, Me., Aug. 5—Plans to raise money for the $10 bonuses voted to Maine soldiers by the Legislature were outlined by William J. Thompson, State master of the Grange, in a circular sent to members. The writer suggests, instead of a form of taxation that would put an undue burden on farm and home taxpayers, an increase of $2 in the poll tax.

PONZI'S NEW SCHEME PROMISES NO FIFTY PER CENT.

HAS CREDIT IN BANKS ABROAD

Ponzi declared there is no 50 per cent. in forty-five days in the new business he plans to start and which he describes as a banking corporation, capitalized at $100,000,000 or $200,000,000 and paying interest of 1 per cent. a month and yearly dividend.

A fund of $8,000 was today appropriated by the Governor's Council, to be at the disposal of Attorney-General Allen for special investigation into the Ponzi operations, and also into the charges that Ponzi had asked for $10,000. While only $8,000 was given him, the understanding was that more would be appropriated if needed.

Only a handful of note-holders on hand at opening time today at the Pi Alley office of the International Exchange Company. Ten speculators were attempting to buy their notes.

Cables and letters written by an agent of a well-known German firm of international manager, who has just completed a wide tour of European countries, declare that Ponzi has practically bought up every available coupon in Europe and that his activities were halted only when the various governments made new postal agreements.

The correspondence between the theatrical manager and his agent was examined carefully by a representative of the Boston American in the presence of several members of the editorial staff. The envelopes in which the letters were sent bore postmarks of a date preceding the present investigation of Ponzi's activities.

"This Boston man," one letter states, "cleaned up" when the last exchange rates were at their lowest."

It is further declared that Ponzi had operated through his small army of agents at such an early stage and that his operations were so far reaching that he was enabled to reap a fortune and get his funds safely in the banks there before the foreign exchange situation cleared.

MADE AMENDMENTS.

Ponzi, it was disclosed, immediately sent his agents into new territory when the new inter-allied postal agreement went into effect, and is still operating his system with tremendous profits in other countries not affected according to the agent of the Boston man.

Ponzi's European operations were brought to light by Thomas D. Seriero, a former lodger of the Tuft Theatre and now the general manager of a well-known Boston theatrical enterprise, who has just returned from touring the Continent for him on a personal matter. Mr. Seriero refused to disclose the name of his agent for business reasons, but said he was well familiar with foreign exchange and that the amount of business transacted by Ponzi called for operations to his attention while on his travels.

"I met another one of the Boston man's agents and he informed me he had purchased all the reply coupons that he needed. He implied that he was going to place them in his employer's credit and then sail for Boston and report to him."

Mr. Seriero, who declared that he had no personal interest in the merit of the Ponzi case, and was not concerned with the investigations other than to see that justice was done, stated that his agent had no knowledge of the various investigations now being made into the young financier's operations and that his comment on Ponzi's activities was unsolicited.

BOUGHT COUPONS HEAVILY.

Ponzi's operations in Europe were to be brought to his attention, Mr. Seriero said, in a letter from Paris, dated July 9. In this missive the agent referred to Ponzi as "a Boston man" and told of heavy purchases of international reply coupons in France by representatives of business organizations acting for him. These operations, it was stated, all took place before the new postal agreements between the various European nations.

Another letter received by Mr. Seriero, and dated July 15, after mentioning personal business, went on to tell of more of the Boston man's activities. Much of these comprised, the agent said, had been placed in Ponzi's credit in Spain and Switzerland. He intimated that these were only two of the many countries in which Ponzi had carried out his operations to a large extent.

TALKED WITH PONZI'S AGENTS.

In still another letter Mr. Seriero's agent said that he had been so interested by the "Boston man's" operations that he had finally cut several of the agents and had had long talks with them. They, of course, refused to give him any figures of their operations, but enough was gained from these talks, he said, to indicate that the principles of Ponzi's system had reached into nearly every corner of the Old World.

Mr. Seriero said that he had heard from his agent as late as last week, and that additional details of the foreign exchange operations of the Boston man" were given.

The theatrical manager stated that his interest in his agent's personnel at the time he received his early letters was only casual, but with the discovery of operations of the young financier during the past ten days he became interested and looked forward to each one thereafter with considerable curiosity.

The fact that Ponzi was a Boston man and that his mysterious activities in Europe called forth considerable comment, was probably the reason, Mr. Seriero said, that his agent became interested. The theatrical man said as far as he knew his agent was not personally acquainted with Ponzi, and as far himself he had never met him.

Ponzi's system had nothing to do with him, Mr. Seriero declared, as he had not thought it necessary to tell his agent of the developments here. His agent, he said, had already sailed from Europe and should reach Boston within a few days.

KEEP NEW PROJECT SECRET.

Mr. Seriero's agent, in one of his late letters, mentioned a project involving the "Boston man's" agents which they were keeping a close secret, but which, he thought, was supplanting the wholesale buying of reply coupons and was on a much larger scale and carried with it greater profits than his early system.

An attempt to learn what his scheme was failed, but enough was found out to lead to the belief, he said further, that Ponzi had come upon something the like of which was unknown to finance, but which on the face of it was apparently legitimate.

In one of the letters the theatrical manager's representative declared that in France the laws governing the sale of coupons was very rigid and that prosecution followed any attempt to reap heavy profits in view of the low foreign exchange, at the expense of the government.

The purchase of over a stipulated amount of coupons, he went on, resulted in an inquiry as to the purpose of purchaser in demanding such a large amount. These rules, he said, were put into effect after the signing of the armistice, he understood.

Mr. Seriero's agent was thrown into contact with bankers and financial institutions in the dispatch of his business and thus it is believed, came into first hand knowledge of the Boston "wizard's" activities. This myterious man, he said, was on everybody's tongues wherever money or foreign exchange was the topic. Nobody seemed to know him and he was partly by chance that the managers representative came into knowledge of his operations.

ADMITS LIABILITIES.

Although Ponzi refuses to divulge the exact amount of his assets, he does admit the extent of his liabilities, which he places at $500,000.

While pressed further for the total amount of his resources he admitted that he is worth approximately $7,000,000. He refuses to disclose where or any part of this sum was represented by holdings in foreign countries.

Ponzi, impatient at the methodical precision of the various investigation into his operations and unwilling to wait the result of the audit of his books, is ready to launch the tremendous project which he outlined shortly after his release from jail.

This corporation, which he declares will begin business within a day or two, will be capitalized at either $1,000,000 or $2,000,000 and will pay a dividend of 12 per cent. yearly, it is rigidly developed, he declared.

"If some of these other corporations can pay 150 to 250 per cent. yearly, so can we," he declared. He added that there would be no further interest paid at the rate of 50 per cent. every 45 days.

Girl Wins Airplane by School Work

Chicago, Aug. 5.—Autos are too slow for Miss Ruby Huff, so she got herself an airplane. She is eighteen, pretty and not the least bit nervous.

As soon as the machine was delivered Miss Huff donned her leather cap and goggles and hopped in. The machine glided into the air, looped the loop twice and sped off in the direction of Milwaukee. From there she went to Warrens, Wis., to visit a schoolmate. Just before the airplane started she turned to her mother and said:

"Give my old roadster away, it's no slow."

A telegram received later said: "Flying time to Warrens 147 minutes, distance 267 miles."

Ruby's plane was a gift from her father because she was awarded a three years' scholarship at the University of Chicago for having high schools grades.

U. S. Notifies Tenants at Quincy They Must Quit Houses

other homes in this district. It certainly appears strange that in a time like the present the government itself should be preparing to drive people into the streets.

"Pending the return of Attorney Frank J. Duffy from Washington I have advised everybody on the list of seventy to disregard the notice. Although I do not argue, no such envelopes are postmarked 'August 2.' Inasmuch as this amounts to less than the thirty days' notice called for by the lease I maintain that it is illegal and void.

"I can say now that these 70 families will not give up these houses willingly. If the Government goes to court for writs of ejectment we will meet its petition by asking for relief under the terms of the Hoyt bill, sponsored by the Boston Americ an and passed by the late Legislature.

APPEAL TO COURTS.

"We shall say to the court, under the terms of that bill, that we are good tenants, that we have always paid our rent promptly and that we are unable to find anywhere in these parts vacant houses approaching in roominess, comfort and other essentials those which we now occupy.

"Some of the seventy tenants say that when they went to the office of the U. S. Housing Corporation at Abbot road and Washington street Monday to pay their rent they asked —with the controversy in mind— whether there was "any news'

"They were told, they say, that there was nothing to report. After the delivery of the notices I called upon Collector Greg, who told me that all he could say was that the notices were based upon 'official orders from Washington.'"

120 HOUSES SOLD.

The Housing Corporation houses at Quincy Point number 260, of which 120 have been sold. The government is desirous of getting rid of the house-owning proposition with all possible speed. The houses were offered for sale a few months ago. Some of the tenants objected to price and terms.

One of the reasons suggested for today's notices is that it will be easier to find purchasers when the houses are vacant. The houses have from four to seven rooms and have rented on the basis of $6 the room.

der of the courthouse. He was arraigned, waived examination, and was held in $5,000 for the Grand Jury.

Smith was arrested yesterday on his return from New York in connection with the theft of another automobile. Dillon and McKeever will not be arraigned for a day or two, until they are able to secure bail.

Dillon was present as a witness and says he cannot tell where he learned that he was again to face trial.

PRIVATE HEARING.

The hearing before Judge Almy was private. Scores of the curious waited outside, however, owing to the sensational import of the charges, several times defeated.

Detectives called as witnesses were James J. Hart, former Boston policeman now under indictment in connection with the auto theft conspiracy; Sergeant William Sheehan of Boston Police Headquarters, Inspectors Michael Mullahan and John Stokes, Samuel Irving and Henry Fine.

Chief of Police John J. McBride of Cambridge was present throughout the hearing. It was he who applied for warrants, following rumors that his officers were involved. Chief McBride was accompanied by Chief Inspector Patrick Hurley of his department.

GRAND JURY BUSY.

The hearing before Judge Almy was in progress the special Middlesex Grand Jury continued its probe of the auto scandal in the courthouse, a block away. Foreman Edward Attorney George Stanley Harvey conducted the hearing for the government.

Herman L. Barney, State Prison Inmate, slayer of Patrolman Deninger and alleged repository of the secrets of the auto thieves, was the star witness. Barney's presence before the grand jury caused much uneasiness to the men suspected of complicity in the "ring." It was declared that the former chief of the "gang" was "coming clean," and telling all he knew.

Rumors spread quickly in the University city as the two hearings went on, and it was confidently predicted that even if the lower court did exonerate the police the grand jury would see that nobody involved would go free.

HARDING AIDS SUFFRAGE PLEA

Appeals to Republicans of Tennessee to Ratify Amendment

By International News Service.

Marion, Ohio, Aug 5.—Senator Warren G. Harding, Republican nominee for President, today threw the full weight of his influence toward securing the ratification of the national woman suffrage amendment by the 36th State necessary to enable women to vote in every State at the November election.

In carrying out his promise to Mrs. Abbie Scott Baker, political chairman of the National Woman's party, that he would take "definite steps" to assist women to obtain a nation-wide ballot, the Senator wired John C. Houk, State Senator and Republican State chairman of Tennessee, that Republicans of that State "are in a position to serve both party and country by effecting ratification" of the suffrage amendment by its Legislature.

One-fourth of the Tennessee Legislature is Republican. The situation at Nashville, Mrs. Baker told the Senator, is "dark and desperate," but she expressed the opinion that if the Republican members of the Legislature now in session there would swing solidly behind the suffrage amendment, the chances of Tennessee being the thirty-sixth State to ratify it would be "greatly improved."

The Senator's telegram to Senator Houk follows:

"With the approach of a decision by the General Assembly of Tennessee on the matter of ratifying the suffrage amendment to the Federal constitution, I would like to be advised as to poll of Republican members. I do so in the belief that Tennessee Republicans are in a position to serve both party and country by effecting ratification. Will welcome advice as to whether I can aid in securing this act of justice to the woman citizenship of our nation."

Cox May Make Flying Trip to Tennessee

By International News Service.

Dayton, Aug. 5.—Governor Cox conferred last night with Mrs. Abbie Scott Baker, political chairman of the National Woman's Party, on the woman suffrage situation in Tennessee. Mrs. Baker told the Governor that the chances of ratification of the nineteenth amendment by the Tennessee Legislature were practically all up to him, and urged that action be taken.

The Governor made no announcement as to the result of the conference, it being understood that he had left the matter entirely in Chairman George H. White before making public the signing by the President.

It was persistently rumored here today, however, that the Governor had under consideration a plan to make a flying trip to Tennessee in behalf of suffrage before the Legislature had an opportunity definitely to refuse to ratify.

OVERTURNED AUTO RAMMED BY ANOTHER

South Hadley, Aug. 5.—Edward Dietel, thirteen years old, and Gertrude Dietel, seventeen, children of John Dietel of Hadley Falls, sustained fractured skulls and are at the Holyoke City Hospital, while Mrs. Dietel and her younger daughter, Anna, received minor bruises when, in an effort to avoid striking children on the road to South Hadley, Dietel swerved sharply to one side, upsetting his auto and landing the occupants beneath it. Before the machine was righted it was rammed by an automobile operated by Aristide Robitaille of Holyoke, who was close behind the Dietel car.

Favors Workhouse for Automobile Masher

New York, Aug 5.—The automobile masher should not be fined. He should be sent to the workhouse for a long term, regardless of wealth or social standing.

This advice to New York judges was given by Miss Alice L. Smith, probation officer in charge of the Woman's Court.

Miss Smith declared the girls in the majority of cases are not to blame. She said:

"We cannot tell girls they are not to have amusement. In countless cases they are almost strangers and have no way to go for fun. Without thinking of danger, they attend shows and dances unaccompanied.

"Those parasites who park their automobiles around the White Way until the hour when theatres and dance halls are giving their patrons to the street are quick to pick out those who look innocent and have no escorts. To a girl who has worked hard all day in a stuffy shop, office or factory, a spin in the open air in a comfortable car outweighs common judgment."

Offered Wife to Rival; Now Asks $100,000

New York, Aug. 5.—A remarkable love triangle, in which the husband insisted that "the man in the case" either marry or give up forever the wife loved by each of them, is revealed in a $100,000 alienation suit filed in Trenton.

In the base angles of the human triangle are Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Chisholm, prominent residents of No. 87 Beaumont place, Newark. In the apex is William C. Parker, society man, of Morristown, N. J.

One of the unusual features of the case as set forth in the affidavits, was that the three principals frequently held conferences at which they discussed "the best way out" for all.

"TAKE HER OR LEAVE HER."

The affectionate of his wife for Parker was well known to him, Chisholm explains in his complaint. He says he discussed the situation with both, eventually giving to Parker this ultimatum:

"Take her or leave her. You must do either for the other or face a suit for alienation."

"I can't take her, I must educate my sons," Parker is declared to have replied.

"The education of your sons—do you put that before the woman?" the paper say that Chisholm returned. Despite this it is said that the "infatuation" of the couple had its inception in 1918, when the Chisholms and the Parkers occupied Summer cottages at Culver's Lake, N. J. Chisholm says he became convinced that Parker really loved his wife, and so the matter of fact way he called them both before him.

AGREED TO PART, HE SAYS.

Finally, he asserts in the papers, he informed them that the affair must stop. He says they agreed. Parker left Culver's Lake for the city and after two days Chisholm said he returned to town satisfied his rival would keep his word.

Chisholm then sets forth that he later learned that Parker returned early in the Summer and saw Mrs. Chisholm frequently.

Again, he says, the two agreed that all was in the past and that they would not see each other again.

The Spring of 1919 came and with it there arrived new suspicions for Chisholm. But later the husband says Parker wrote Mrs. Chisholm that they had been wrong in their love. By the first of the year, however, Chisholm asserts that the situation had become such that another conference was held between the three and the threat of an alienation suit was reiterated.

Parker is said to have offered a bond to be forfeited if he saw Mrs. Chisholm again. Chisholm then says he became convinced that Parker really loved his wife, and so the matter of fact way he called them both before him.

Parker and his wife are now separated and Chisholm and his wife are also living apart. The Parkers have two children and the Chisholms have a daughter.

ADD 75 MILLION TO COAL COST

American Public Must Stand Increase in Railroad Freight Rates

Washington, Aug. 5.—The American public will pay at least $75,000,000 a year more for its coal as the result of the increased freight rates granted to the railroads by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

George H. Cushing, director of the American Railroads Association, said today the rate increases will add $36,000,000 to the nation's soft coal bill and $45,000,000 for hard coal.

The increases will vary according to the distance the coal is hauled, as the freight charges constitute the principal item in the cost of coal. The increased rates on soft coal, Mr. Cushing said, will range from 40 cents to $1.28 a ton, while on hard coal, which is hauled at higher rates, the increases will average about $1 a ton.

The increases cannot be pyramided in sales to dealers, he declared, because the freight rate is billed separately from the cost of the coal itself. He also was confident the major part of retailers will not add anything to their prices further than the rate increase itself.

The close watch will be maintained by Department of Justice agents, it was stated at the office of Attorney-General Palmer, to see that dealers who have coal on hand when the increased rates become effective do not apply the higher charges to coal received under the present rates.

LABOR TO FIGHT OPEN SHOP

Compers Plans Gigantic Fund to Combat Big Business Efforts to Destroy Unions

Atlantic City, Aug. 5.—The one hundred and sixteen international unions affiliated with the American Federation of Labor will unite in a war on the open shop.

The rallying call for them to join forces and prepare for a finish fight will be issued here by Samuel Gompers in the name of the Executive Council of the Federation, or by the entire council itself.

Charging that the United States Chamber of Commerce, the National Manufacturers' Association and big corporations like the Pennsylvania Railroad and the United States Steel Company, are in a conspiracy to destroy the unions, members of the Council, now meeting here, declared that organized labor will resist the open shop movement with all the resources at its command.

"They cannot hope to destroy it, they said, will be met by an equally gigantic defense fund raised among 5,000,000 members.

Mexican Beauty Admits 'Trunk Murder'

By International News Service.

Paris, Aug. 5.—A sensational "trunk murder," the victim of which was George Weissman Bessarabo, a millionaire oil man with great properties at Tampico, was cleared up today when the police announced that the wife had made a complete confession.

Mme. Lucille Bessarabo, the wife, and her daughter were arrested, but the mother denies that her daughter had any knowledge of the crime. Bessarabo was not the daughter's father; she was Mme. Bessarabo's child by a previous marriage.

According to the police, Mme. Bessarabo confessed she killed her husband after discovered he was squandering large sums upon several women, including a stenographer.

This knowledge, the wife said, coupled with a revelation by her daughter that Bessarabo had attempted to attack the girl, drove her (the wife) to homicidal fury.

The body was shipped to Nancy in a trunk, where it was found.

Mme. Bessarabo is a woman of great beauty and is from a wealthy Mexican family. Her father was a general in the Mexican army. She has written a number of books.

ILLINOIS LAWMAKERS TO SCOURGE RENT GOUGERS

Chicago, Aug. 5.—Chicago landlords who think they are going to raise rents from 40 per cent. to 70 per cent. in October, and that the people were taking it philosophically because they know they would have to pay it," received a shock when they heard of a movement to call a special session of the Legislature in an effort to get relief for tenants.

Governor Lowden is reported to be lining up with the renters. Robert Mulcahy, chairman of the executive committee on high rents, announced that he is planning to boost the taxes of the greedy landlords.

ADOPTED WIDOW GETS MANSION

Newburyport Agog Over Home-coming of 80-Year-Old Man and 'Daughter'

Newburyport, Aug. 5.—This city is on the qui vive, for the strangest home coming in all its history. That home-coming is of Mrs. Mabel S. Fowle, fifty-two-year-old widow of Daniel H. Fowle, former keeper of the Tavern, and her new "Pappa," eighty-year-old Captain Arthus H. Clark, of New York.

Just a few days ago, Mrs. Fowle, "that was," as some of them say in Newburyport, left for New York to be adopted. Now she returns a new daughter, to live in one of the most imposing mansions of this quaint and charming city. Her neighbors and friends tell the story.

Just a few days ago, Mrs. Fowle, employee at the Wolfe Tavern, formerly owned by Mrs. Fowle and her husband, explain, "Now see, this is a genuine romance, which ended in an adoption instead of a wedding." Folks will have it, Captain Clark would have been full well satisfied if it had been a wedding, but the widow would not. Having married the first man on earth, and him havin' died, she wouldn't take no other, so they say she said to her very best friends, friends.

The story goes on from here, as told by Mrs. Carrie Gould, best friend of Mrs. Fowle. Mrs. Gould lives on Morton street, her back yard just opposite the back yard of the handsome Clement residence, which Captain Clark has bought for his new adopted daughter. As Mrs. Gould explained:

"Probably no pleasanter woman, nor more loving nor kindly woman, ever lived than Mrs. Fowle. I don't blame Captain Clark for wanting to adopt her. To have her about as a companion, and to know that her kindly skill would be at hand in illness, ought to make a man feel pretty sure of himself. Most men are helpless without a wife. Mrs. Fowle to have her about the house.

"Well, I think Captain Clark must have wished to adopt Mrs. Fowle as soon as he met her first, for we heard talk of a marriage. But she would not get married to a man so much older than herself. We all think she was right. But then as he takes a real interest in him, we all know, because, although he is very quiet man, she talked about him quite a little. It was very kindly talk, daughterly, approving for the old captain so very, alone in the world.

"Which is why, after all, the adopting human relationships, here in Newburyport. Which, also, suggests to quarter-back Clark, of every tongue in this city. Here it is.

"Now that he widow Fowle has been adopted by Captain Clark, world traveller, distinguished man of affairs, will she become Captain Miss Clark, because she is his daughter and will she be known as Miss Fowle? That's what they all want answered, and that's the question that as they say, "when we bump right into them on the street, and don't know how to call her."

SEIZE LAWRENCE RED CIRCULARS

Arrests to Follow Bitter Attack on Wilson and Government by Communists

Lawrence, Aug. 5.—Arrests are expected to follow the wide distribution here of inflammatory circulars calling upon the working class to "overthrow the present capitalistic government, establish a workers' government, organize your red army for its defence and take over all the industries." The circulars, issued by the local Lawrence Communistic party, have been seized by the Department of Justice. The circular attacks William M. Wood and the closing of the mills. It states that the workers have overproduced, causing a condition of starvation in the midst of plenty.

"Woodrow Wilson," the circular continues, "the obedient servant of our trusts, broke international laws as well as United States laws to blockade Soviet Russia. Western Europe was cut off from its chief supplies of food and raw materials so that the American profiteers could feed the world, double the already high cost of living and get dividends of a thousand per cent. and more."

The circular points out that "the workers of Russia have found the solution." It states that "parasites of Mr. Wood's class starve in the case of a food shortage."

An appeal is made to the reader to spread the doctrine of Communism so that the working class may be "educated" for the coming revolution of the workers.

"Down with the slaveholders' government. Hail to the workers' revolution in America," concludes the appeal.

City Marshal O'Brien, after notifying the Department of Justice, immediately began an investigation of his own. "This sort of thing will not be tolerated in Lawrence," he said. Prosecutions will be brought under the anti-anarchy law if evidence is secured to merit arrests.

It is trite, perhaps, to say it, but the Knights of Columbus, in common with all true Americans, believe that Ireland has the right and ought to be a free and independent nation.

WOULD-BE LYNN SUICIDE LIVES AFTER 3 SHOTS

When Thomas Fuss, aged sixty-five, a boiler tender living at No. 209 Sumner street, Lynn, learned that he could no longer do heavy work he went to his home, the police say, and attempted to commit suicide with an old 22-calibre revolver.

He shot himself three times, twice in the left chest, close to the heart, and once in the forehead. Occupants of the house took him to the Lynn Hospital, where doctors said he would recover.

Stomach is quick to upset—Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin will bring prompt relief and comfort

THE depressing heat makes many women careless of their health. The housework becomes extra tiresome and the hot kitchen adds to their discomfort. The vest cold foods and iced drinks with the result that the stomach is soon upset, and constipation follows as indigestion.

It is well to know that there is a remedy that brings quick relief. It is called Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and you can find it in any drug store. It is a combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin that acts on the digestive organs and soon rids the bowels of its accumulations. Take a spoonful of Syrup Pepsin at night and the congestion, headache and feverishness will be gone in the morning. You will then stand the heat with comfort.

There are thousands of women in this country who do not use anything else in these emergencies but Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Miss Burt, of 1045 Wallkins St., Grand Rapids, Mich., relies entirely on Syrup Pepsin, and she personally knows many others who do. The medicine she formerly took for constipation made her sick to the stomach, but Syrup Pepsin is mild and acts gently and without griping that she finds pleasure in using it.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin can be given to infants with entire safety. It is a truly wonderful household medicine, and a bottle should be in every home.

FREE Millions of people of all ages suffer from occasional or chronic constipation. Let them send name and address to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 512 Washington St., Monticello, Ill., for a free sample bottle of his wonderful Syrup Pepsin. 8 million bottles were bought at drug stores last year, the largest sale in the world.

This Pretty Girl Tells How She Defies Age by Using Ordinary Oatmeal to Beautify Her Complexion

New York—According to the well-known beauty specialist, Miss Edna Wilder, the secret of lines may be learned by taking care of little wrinkles before they have a chance to form. Like every thing else the skin needs food, care and attention. The pores, to do their work properly, should be kept open and scrupulously clean. For this purpose use a good cleansing cream (think cold cream I have found to be the best.) After the pores have been cleansed they should be fed, to nourish and bring to the skin that beautiful youthful appearance every normal woman craves. Miss Wilder tells how to past the time of life when most complexions fade, is famous for her beautiful complexion, and when asked how she retains her youthful appearance said:

"It is a simple process to appear youthful. No one need, within ten years of guessing my age. Here is an ounce of it to any grocer store and get ten cents worth of ordinary oatmeal. Put a small quantity of the oatmeal in a bag of cheesecloth about the size of your hand. Dip the bag into the basin of dirtwilla which can be obtained at the toilet counter of any department or up-to-date drug store, dip in warm water and use as you would a wash cloth. With this combination wash your face, hands, arms, neck and shoulders, night and morning. Let it remain on the skin for a minute before allowing the pores to absorb the food value of the oatmeal. Wash off with warm water, rinse with cold water and pat dry with a soft towel. In a short time your skin will undergo a marvelous change. A rosy glow mounts the cheeks, and a baby softness comes to the skin. The very first application will convince you that this combination is a most effective one for beautifying purposes. It is especially recommended for dark, sallow, rough skin, shiny nose, freckles, tan, sunburn, wrinkles, and large pores. It freshens and beautifies the complexion, and since short sleeves are in vogue it is necessary to have beautiful hands and arms and dirtwilla and Linka cold cream makes rough, red hands and arms smooth and white. Use it as you would any cold cream and notice the difference. I have been serving my complexion to dirtwilla and Linka cold cream and oatmeal. Every woman can, no matter what her station in life, can well afford to spend five or ten minutes each night and morning in caring for her complexion. There is enough money in the world to taste me to neglect mine. I have known women over fifty to follow this method and frequently pass for forty. Women thirty years of age look like girls in their teens. Just cut this out so you won't forget it, try it one week, and at the end of that time you will thank me for publishing my formula. Over a million discriminating girls and women are following my advice and they are just as enthusiastic over this method as I am."

MAE EDNA WILDER

NOTE—To get the best effect be sure to follow the complete instructions given above. You have only to go to any toilet counter and ask for dirtwilla and Linka cold cream and you will be given the genuine article. If anyone on use it and is unexpensive that any woman can afford it. Dirtwilla and Linka cold cream can be obtained in Boston and vicinity from department stores and all up-to-date druggists.—Advertisement.

"Intellectual Jazz" Invades England

By Universal Service.

London, Aug. 5.—"Intellectual jazz" has invaded England in the form of Stravinsky's chamber music. It is being played, not in the night clubs and vaudeville houses, but on the exclusive concert platforms, thus giving musical students a refined version of the unrestrained jazz.

Music critics take attention to strange "snorts and snuffs" contained in Stravinsky's "story of a soldier," which is characterized throughout by instrumental jocularity.

LAWRENCE POOL PLAYER HELD IN $1,300 LARCENY

Lawrence, Aug. 5.—For the alleged larceny of $1,300 from a fellow pool player, George Ritchie was held for the Grand Jury here. Judge Mahoney called the theft a "wicked larceny," and stated that if he were imposing sentence the statutory limit of twenty years would be given. It was last shot of the game and the owner of the money had offered to wager, showing the roll. It was his life's savings and it had been turned over to him to bank by his wife.

FIREMEN IGNORE ALARM; BELIEVED IT WAS TEST

Worcester, Aug. 5.—Because they thought that the blowing of their new siren alarm system in Shrewsbury was a trial rather than an alarm, Shrewsbury firemen were delayed in reaching the fire in the home of Mrs. Edith Harrington, known as Sycamore lodge, and the building suffered a fire loss of about $3,000. Neighbors aided in rescuing a number of antiques from the blaze.

COUNTER WORKERS IN HAVERHILL STRIKE

Haverhill, Aug. 5.—At a mass meeting held by the counter workers and others employed in the twenty counter, toplift and tap factories closed this week, it was unanimously voted to declare a strike and not to return to work until the firms grant the demands of the union. Of the 600 employes it is estimated that 200 have already found employment, fifty having gone to work at the Atlantic shipyards in Portsmouth, N. H.

HAVERHILL TO WAR ON RENT PROFITEERS

Haverhill, Aug. 5.—It has been decided by the new rent commission, Alderman George Munsey, chairman; Fred M. Knight and A. T. Colcord, that rent profiteering landlords who do not attend a meeting of the commission next Monday evening, to answer to charges brought against them by tenants, will be referred to the State Commission on the Necessities of Life. Twenty tenants appeared before the commission and asserted that their rents have been jumped, since August 1, 40 to 100 per cent, and some averred that they were asked to pay advances of from $7 to $10 a week.

EVERY WOMAN WANTS A CLEAR, SMOOTH COMPLEXION

A Skin Free of Blemishes and With the Tint of Youth.

If you have a clear, smooth, velvety youthful skin, free of pimples and other unsightly blemishes, you need never fear the impression you make on all you meet, for a woman with a pretty complexion always appears charming—and there is no joy like that which comes from knowing that you look your best.

Some women are endowed by nature with a clear, smooth skin; others, not so fortunate, can acquire it by the use of the popular Black and White Beauty Treatment which consists of Black and White Ointment and Soap. You who suffer the embarrassment of a dark, sallow, muddy complexion, pimples, freckles, liver spots and other skin blemishes can be happy with a beautiful skin. Go to your nearest drug store and get a 25c package of Black and White Ointment and Black and White Soap. Just before retiring, bathe your face, arms or neck with the Soap and apply the Ointment according to directions. The next morning wash off the Ointment. It's very easy to apply and as delightful as cold cream and rouge. The Black and White Beauty Treatment is also safe and dependable. Money back if not satisfied.

Shock-Absorbers For False Teeth

Cleveland, June 15.—Non-Skid Shock Absorbers for false teeth are the latest thing. Heretofore the principle of shock absorbers has been limited in application, but now a Cleveland chemical concern advertises a powder which, sprinkled upon "store teeth," forms a smooth cushion, holds them firmly in place, and gives a "non-skid" effect while they romp over the toughest roasting ears of corn and chew the stickiest candy.

One who has lost his natural teeth can supply himself with this antiseptic, adhesive comfort powder—Corega—at a drug store, and proceed to laugh and sneeze, crack nuts and do other hazardous things without risk of shaking his prized false teeth from their upper and lower berths. 35c at druggist.—Advertisement.

U. S. READY TO ENTER MEXICO

Troops May Be Rushed Across Border to Protect California Irrigation Canal

By International News Service.

Washington, Aug. 5.—American troops may be rushed across the border into Northern Mexico at any moment that steps may be deemed necessary to protect the irrigation canal along the boundary, so vital to business interests and industries in California. This was admitted by officials of the State and War Departments, who today conferred on precautions to prevent damage to the canal from bands of marauders in the threatened hostilities between Governor Dabb of Lower California and the forces of the provisional Mexican government.

Major General Joseph Dickman, head of the army's southern department, has been given wide discretion to insure safety of the canal and American interests along the boundary. Without orders from Washington, it was said, General Dickman probably would greatly augment the number of troops in the region traversed by the waterway.

Possibility that American troops might cross the border was pointed out by officials when reports came that the forces of Provisional President de la Huerta might prove unequal to the task of safeguarding the canal, which the new regime promised to do after representations were made by Secretary of State Colby. Officials pointed out that the canal, which serves the Imperial Valley, crosses the border line between California and Lower California, and courses in winding direction around a stretch of northern Mexico.

Definite assurances that proper military steps will be taken, have been given the State Department through the Mexican Foreign Office, but adequate precautions are being made by officials of this government to act swiftly, if such a step is imperative.

Finding Bones Recalls Old Holyoke Crime

Holyoke, Aug. 5.—Workmen digging the foundation for a new building, unearthed the skeleton of a man, apparently buried for a great number of years. The skeleton was disintegrated and many of the bones could not be found, but a part of the pelvis identified it as that of a man.

Old police officials in an effort to recall some tragedy which would suit the find believe the remains to be that of a man named Kelly who disappeared from here forty years ago. At the time of Kelly's disappearance it was believed that he was murdered in a South Holyoke saloon, but his body was never found. The stature indicated by the bones was that of a very tall man, and Kelly was over six feet.

WOUNDED WIFE IS FORGIVEN

Ruth Jackson, Shot by Dr. Arenas, Reconciled with Husband; of Good Family

New York, Aug. 5.—When Ruth Jackson, the stage-struck girl whom Dr. Arenas shot before taking his own life, is finally released by the police she will be taken back to Toledo, Ohio, by her husband.

Both Ruth, and Louis Schultz, her husband, said as much today.

The girl first saw Schultz when he entered the courtroom in which she was being questioned. She fainted. It did not take long for her to come to, however, and, according to court attendants, each was warmly welcomed by the other.

Schultz told the authorities he and the girl, whose maiden name was Lola Ruth Nixon, and whose mother was "socially prominent" in Columbus, Ohio, had been married, three years. He said he had given her permission to come to New York to try and realize her ambition to go on the stage. He is convinced the life has lost its glamor, and is happy that she now is anxious to go home with him.

20 MILLIONS TO AID VETERANS

King George Heads Organization for Relief of Stricken British War Heroes

London, Aug. 5.—Because the government is financially unable to render sufficient help, an organization, headed by the King, Earl Haig, Earl Beatty and others, has been launched to obtain $20,000,000 for relief purposes.

The plight of 25,000 disabled officers, 10,000 officers' widows, 8,000 officers' orphans, 15,000 children of disabled officers and 25,000 unemployed officers has been driven home to the public by voluminous advertising.

The Briton is told that he must "honor your bond," because "when your bonds were in peril you asked these men to sacrifice their positions and abandon their careers," and "for your charge" the married officer confidently entrusted the care of his home, his wife and his family. In addition, youths left school, business was abandoned and careers sacrificed for the common good. Now they have returned, broken in health and unable to battle with the world. To maintain their homes, give their children proper schooling and help officers get into some line of work and to supplement the income of officers unable to work, the fund will be administered.

The scheme, wholly voluntary, is aimed to build a bridge over the ex-officers' difficulties.

HIGH RAILROAD FARES BAR VISIT TO HARDING

By Universal Service.

East Liverpool, Ohio, Aug. 5.—Because they were unable to get a better railroad rate than $11 a round trip, Republican leaders decided to definitely to postpone the proposed visit on August 11 of 200 Columbian County pottery workers to the Marion home of Senator Warren G. Harding, Republican Presidential candidate.

Marion, Ohio, Aug. 5.—"There is nothing that can get me away from here before October 1."

This was Senator Warren G. Harding's answer to Senator Howard Sutherland of West Virginia in declining an invitation to speak at Wheeling on August 12. The Republican nominee's statement was regarded as effectively putting an end to reports that his front porch campaign was to be abandoned.

Marion, O., Aug. 5.—"Four years ago nearly all Irish-Americans were for President Wilson but they are now practically united for Senator Harding because of the League of Nations issue." This was the message brought to the Republican nominee by Patrick Henry O'Donnell, a Chicago lawyer.

HALTS VACATION TO CATCH THIEF

Federal Officer Captures Alleged Bank Embezzler Hunted for Two Years

Hartford, Ct., Aug. 5.—Placing his duty first, even during his vacation, Edward J. Hickey, chief operative of the Federal Bureau of Investigation in this city, caught an alleged embezzler at Rockaway Beach.

The agent arrived at the Hotel McAlpin, New York, last Saturday, and there picked up a clew to the whereabouts of Thornton F. Duggan, wanted since August 17, 1918, for embezzling $14,000 from the National Tradesmen's Bank of New Haven, where he was a teller.

Hickey, who was starting for his first vacation since before the war, changed his plans and after two days' work arrested Duggan. Duggan, who was secretly indicted by a Federal Grand Jury, has for two years evaded detectives engaged by the National Security Company. He has a wife and three children in Newark, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Duggan, live in Middletown, Conn.

By Universal Service.

London, Aug. 5.—V-shaped blouses for pupils have been banned by the Rev. William Gerrish, head master of Magdalen College, Lincolnshire, who has also ordered all girls to fasten up their collars with a pin during school hours.

Lecturing the pupils on their "disgraceful dress," Gerrish said he would expel all who bobbed their hair or sat at class in immodest fashion.

TAKE PHOSPHATE WITH MEALS IN SUMMER-TIME

Your Nerves Demand It, Your Blood Needs It, Say Physicians.

There's no special phosphorus in certain foods, but it takes one half of the meal to obtain it, American scientists declare.

To supply this lack of an element of your body that is necessary to your every vigorous and even your nervous mood, eminent physicians, professors, food experts and others have learned to take Rexo Phosphate as a spoonful in your regular drink or in the original package.

Physicians of to-day who are really up to date when it comes to food values are continually advising the use of Rexo Phosphate as a tonic. Rexo Phosphate is a Nerving Specialist with Digestive properties. You can obtain it at any druggist.

"Those who were especially prominent in the world's thought today decided on a blood tonic to obtain best results, and nothing, they agree, is a real equal to Rexo Phosphate. Many men have told me they have gained many pounds in weight by the use of Rexo Phosphate. It has produced results that I did not think possible," declares a well-known physician.

To be well for the heat of Summer and to avoid the many ailments it develops, get a package of Rexo Phosphate to-day from your druggist. It is an inexpensive and helpful friend.

Druggists report a wonderful increase in the demand from men and women who are anxious to retain vitality and energy. You are making an honest effort to become a success and Rexo should be a source of real assistance to you, for it does the most perfect health.

They ask for Rexo Phosphate because they say they need an effective organic phosphate.

Careless Shampooing Spoils the Hair

Soap should be used very carefully if you want to keep your hair looking its best. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is Mulsified cocoanut oil shampoo (which is pure as it greaseless), and is better than anything else you can use.

One or two teaspoonfuls will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and has a beautiful gloss and the hair fairly shines with brightness, softness and fluffiness.

You can get Mulsified cocoanut oil shampoo at any drug store. A few ounces is enough to last several months. Everybody in the family should use it, as it is splendid for the whole family.—Advertisement.

For Itching Eczema, Old Sores and Piles

"I guarantee my ointment," says Peterson of Buffalo. "It will relieve and stop the itching at once and any druggist will cheerfully refund your money if PETERSON'S OINTMENT doesn't do everything I say it will do."

William A. Curtis of Franklin, N. Y., is only a few of the many who "tried PETERSON'S OINTMENT when a little boy suffering terribly with eczema. It did the work.

Then there is Alex. Lentz of 3 Grace Street, Buffalo, who tried and tried to write us how bad an old sore on my leg became, and how the best doctors failed. "Finally I tried PETERSON'S OINTMENT and it healed me right up. Just to show you what I think of it I enclose a letter from A. Buscaglia, stating that PETERSON'S OINTMENT is the best thing for piles he ever saw." Mr. Buscaglia lives at 1 Grant Ct. Buffalo, N. Y.

Keeps Hair In Curl On Hot or Windy Days

Here's a hair curling secret that is taking the country by storm. Just rub a little liquid wherever before doing up your hair, using a clean cloth for the purpose. Then bring this down the side front or back to suit. In three hours it will have set beautiful curls and waves as if created with the tongs. Moisture will not affect it, nor will dancing or playing golf. It will last all day or night, and if it will last ever so long, re-moisten a bit and do up once.

You can obtain this almost anywhere, by druggists and department stores will sell a long time. It is neither sticky or greasy and is pleasant to use. It is also said to be excellent as a setting for a bobbed hair dressing. Keep the ends dry and lustrous. Advertisement

COX CLIMBS INTO BOXERS' RING

Mounts Fighter's Stool and Promises to Wage Battle That Will Bring Victory

By Universal Service.

Dayton, O., Aug. 5—Governor James M. Cox, Democratic Presidential nominee, clambered through the ropes of a prize ring, leaped upon a stool in a corner and shouted

"Black, I'm ready for the big fight."

There were cries of "Bring on Harding! Let's settle it now." But Cox was drowned in a chorus of "No, he'd lick him in one round." Then the band played and a couple of thousand Cox enthusiasts sang the Cox battle song, which goes.

[illegible]

The ride and dance over, Governor Cox got down to some serious talk about the issues of the campaign.

CERTAIN OF VICTORY.

The occasion was the annual picnic of the Dem ocity Democratic Club of Boston, an organization of which Governor Cox has been a member for many years and whose outings he always attends. The affair was held in a wood along the bank of the Stillwater river ten miles from Dayton. The Governor's speech followed a period of boxing bouts.

"I'm stript jacketed mentally, less on account of my speech of acceptance Saturday, but I want to say to you that I am as certain of a Democratic victory in November as of the sun setting in the Western sky."

AVOIDS NATIONAL ISSUES.

The Governor kept clear of national issues, and most of his speech was devoted to reminiscences.

"We have won before with the same kind of a fight. We will again because right will triumph and we deserve to win," he declared.

"I will carry the campaign North, East, South and West, recognizing only the limitations of time. I will expect your congratulations in November and on March 4 I will reserve a place of honor in the inaugural parade down Pennsylvania avenue for you Dayton Democrats."

The closest allusion to the campaign issues came when the Governor said, "To those of you who have believed in me without reservations I can say that my speech of acceptance can be understood even by school children."

Tumulty Leaves for Cox Notification

The party will arrive in Dayton tomorrow. Before returning to Washington, Mr Tumulty will take a short vacation in New York and New Jersey, probably attending the notification of the vice presidential candidate, Franklin D. Roosevelt, at Hyde Park, N. Y., on Monday next.

Remember how hot Senator Lodge was for Coolidge for President shortly after the last Republican national convention. That silver-tipped "pint who weathered the storm, a great and courageous captain of the people and his should be President. And he Lodge would nominate him.

Did he? Yes, he did—not. Did he advise the delegation to indorse him by the unit rule. Not by a jugful. He urged against such action and said he would vote for Coolidge on two ballots only. Even a deferred explanation of this change of heart by the Senator would be mighty interesting.

When Lodge uttered the notification speech to Harding at the great meeting in Marion (this doing re-[illegible] from all sports) he referred to the candidate for Vice-President of [illegible] ticket. He made it [illegible] just a thing.

U. S. OLYMPIC ATHLETES TO LAND SATURDAY

BOLAND IS NEWEST CRIPPLE

Busy Days on Shipboard for the Boxing and Wrestling Teams

By CHARLES E. PARKER,
Special Correspondent of the Boston American with the Olympic Athletes.

On Board U. S. S. Princess Matoika, by Wireless, Aug. 5.—The American Olympic athletes on board the Princess Matoika got their first glimpse of land today since leaving America. The weather has cleared and if the present rate of speed is maintained the vessel should dock at Antwerp on Saturday.

Max Boland, steeple-chaser of the Tranlliet A. C. of New York city, suffered a cut on the head when he fell in practice on the deck while the ship was rolling. Four stitches were required.

The boxers and wrestlers are being attended daily in the rules prevailing at the Olympic games.

NOTHING TO BRASSARD RACE BUT GEORGE WILEY

George Wiley had the Brassard, the feature of the Revere cycle track, all to himself. He jumped into the lead at the start and was never headed. He was pushed hard at times, however, and was forced to grind out a new track record of 43 miles 4¼ laps in the four time limit. More than 16,000, the largest gathering ever at a local bike track, was on hand, filling the huge grandstands to overflowing.

Carman, while riding strong in the fifth mile, sustained a heavy fall, although he got himself together and made a good race if it lost too much time to have any chance of victory.

Whites and Talbots meet tonight. This is their second and final game of the season. Both have a chance to get a place in the league by winning this game. Talbot is now at the top, but a defeat tonight will put them down into third place and put Whites in the lead.

Winning from Whites tonight Talbots will establish a commanding lead which practically assures them of playing in front for the remainder of the season.

Trum Field has been secured for the game tonight, and the services of Joe McCarthy and Harrington have been secured to officiate.

Tom Murray and Joe McDonald, two of the best twirlers in the league, will be opposing each other tonight. Both pitchers have been showing considerable stuff of late, and the game tonight was expected to narrow down to a battle between these two.

In the last game with Shumans, in which a prize for every homer made by Shuman players was offered, Murray allowed but one hit. The same prize has been offered for the game tonight, and it is hoped that it will have a better effect on the White batters than it did on Shuman.

Interest in the game tonight was greater than in any other game of the season, and a record crowd is expected.

VINCENT MARTIN BOXES JAWSON

Battlers Meet at Coliseum A. C., Quincy, in Twelve-Round Bout Tonight

By JACK CONWAY.

Vincent Martin Cambridge featherweight, who has been amusing himself during the past few months knocking out preliminary boxers, will step into the ring with a more worthy opponent when he meets Joe Jawson of Worcester in the main bout at the Coliseum A. C., Quincy tonight.

Martin, one of the few boxers from the north shore even after taking a few days milling with Martin, Jawson has been shipped to gain that weight to get matches. He recently fought Riley in the Everett featherweight, and won. Tonight Jawson will have several pounds advantage and he has always had an advantage in reach.

Paul Dennis of Quincy will have Johnny Gilroy of Roxbury lightweight as an opponent in the semi-final of eight rounds. There will also be other bouts.

Boston Fans Backing Friedman to Win

The trend of travel of local sports enthusiasts on an outing afternoon will be toward Woonsocket. The match between Young Montreal of Lou Jenco and Abe Friedman is a reminder of the baseball days of the sport in that city.

The local sporting element which will go to Woonsocket will hand the Boston entry to win over Montreal, while the Providence sports will put their money on Montreal. Both view think in the best bantamweight in the country.

Friedman has been working like a Trojan at Bedford with Teddy Murphy and Tommy Marks and will be in prime shape when he crawls through the ropes Saturday afternoon. Friedman feels confident he will be returned a winner and will hurl a defy at Terry Martin the New England bantamweight champion, if he is declared the victor.

Corbett Says Dempsey Is in Class by Himself

"Jack Dempsey can beat any heavyweight in the world," this cheerful remark was made by Jim Corbett former world's heavyweight champion, who is showing at a local theatre this week. "Dempsey today is as good as John L. Sullivan was in his prime, and the latter was twenty-four years old," continued Gentleman Jim. "Dempsey is a powerful puncher, fast and as courageous as they make them.

"No I think Dempsey could beat Carpentier. It would be a joke what Black Jack would do to the Frenchman. Harry Has proved landed to Carpentier but one is prompted to ask. Who of any prominence did Lie Fresident Wilson never answered a ring with a man of Dempsey's ability.

Believes Champion Can Defeat Harry Wills

"Harry Wills, the colored heavyweight champion Dempsey's only rival in sight as a wonderful boxer and a big, rangy fellow, but I don't believe he can beat Dempsey. The champion is getting about withdrawing the so-called color line I think he will be forcing himself if he does so. Jack Johnson showed the danger of giving a negro an opportunity to win the heavyweight championship.

"Sam Langford, Joe Walcott, George Dixon, and a lot of other men who might be mentioned were a credit to the game, but there is always the danger of another Johnson coming along if the color line is broken. It best to avoid such a possibility by not having mixed bouts."

Corbett brought to be stated that Corbett looks just as youthful as when he appeared as a legit theatre several years ago. Father Time has been very kind to the cleverest man who ever donned a pair of gloves and a champion of the world.

RED SOX TACKLE WHITE SOX

Barrow Band Sure to Find Chicagos Much Livelier Than Tamed Tigers

Chicago, Aug. 5.—Having taken the Detroit series, three games to two, the Red Sox were looking for a new team to conquer and mind that made today. But Kid Gleason, manager of the White Sox, whose defeat the Barrow band seemed bent on declared that he proposed to do a little scalping at the expense of the visitors and would therefore send in his best southpaw, Lefty Williams back from the onward progress of the Bostonians.

To checkmate the "Kid," Manager Barrow had Waite Hoyt out warming up before the battle. The youngster showed a beautiful change of pace and had a hop on his fast one that baffled all but the Pale Hose's pet rookstopage to keep them in working order during the impending battle.

Joe Bush Comes Back and Gets Revenge

In the final game in Detroit Joe Bush, who was batted out of the box on Monday, came back strong. He would have administered a whitewash to the Tigers but for an error by the usually reliable Wallie Schang, who dropped the ball after he had thrown out Ira Flagstead in a race on July 29. Youngster who had the count on Cobb at 1 to 0, grabbed the saddle of Ty Cobb's Fire early in the race and was temporarily set down pending investigation.

Braves Open Series with Cards Today

By NICK FLATLEY.

Some release from the woe of defeat may be expected at Braves Field, now that the Pittsburgh Pirates have departed after collecting a flock of new pennant aspirations. Our Braves can defeat the St. Louisans with some degree of regularity, which same seems impossible against the Corsairs.

The St. Louis outfit has had rather a rough going against the Eastern aggregations and will not be in the same cocky frame of mind that made today. But Kid Gleason, manager of the White Sox, whose defeat the Barrow band seemed bent on declared that he proposed to do a little scalping at the expense of the visitors and would therefore send in his best southpaw, Lefty Williams back from the onward progress of the Bostonians.

To checkmate the "Kid," Manager Barrow had Waite Hoyt out warming up before the battle. The youngster showed a beautiful change of pace and had a hop on his fast one that baffled all but the Pale Hose's pet rookstopage to keep them in working order during the impending battle.

The injured runner of Charles Pick, second baseman, is recovering and Charlie is likely to be shot into the picture although Stallings is glad to let Pond get a workout at the pivot position. Pick's recent hitting, however, is likely to win him regular work just as soon as the wrecked pedal permits.

The finale with the Pirates was a rattling fine tussling battle between Wilbur Cooper and Dana Fillingim, and but for one bad chapter for the whitehatter, the pastime might still be going on. Each pitcher was found for five smacks.

Watson in Shape to Open Cardinal Series

Watson, who had a couple of days of rest because Manager Stallings didn't care to shoot him against the Pirates, who turned him back to the Braves was in fine fettle to open the Card series. The hostiles have a dangerous attack dropped around the mighty Rogers Hornsby, but young Mr Watson doesn't mind a thing like that, as he has proved several times already.

The second baseman, is recovering and Charlie is likely to be shot into the picture although Stallings is glad to let Pond get a workout at the pivot position. Pick's recent hitting, however, is likely to win him regular work just as soon as the wrecked pedal permits.

The finale with the Pirates was a rattling fine tussling battle between Wilbur Cooper and Dana Fillingim, and but for one bad chapter for the whitehatter, the pastime might still be going on. Each pitcher was found for five smacks.

ABOUT OUR GOOD FRIEND

Brewster

Copyright, 1920, by The Ledger Syndicate

BREWSTER

VARIATION—Brewer.

RACIAL ORIGIN—English.

SOURCE—An occupation.

THE occupation of brewing in the United States has reverted largely to the position it occupied in the middle ages when the words "brewer" and "brewster" developed into family names. That is to say; it has become a "home industry."

Brewster, of course, as may be gathered from the explanations previously given of the names Baxter and Webster, is simply the feminine form of the word "brewer." A remarkable equality existed between the sexes in matter of work in the middle ages in England. Virtually all occupations except the very heaviest of manual labor and the profession of arms were followed as widely by women as men. Under the industrial system of the age, however, both men and women worked in their own homes, or in little shops attached to their dwellings. In one old manuscript the following definition of "brewsters" is given:

"Women quha brewes alll to be sauld" (Women who brew ale to be sold).

Family names derived from this particular form of the feminine do not necessarily indicate that the first bearers of them were women. At the period they came to be rather loosely used for either masculine or feminine.

Elder William Brewster, the first bearer of the name in America, also has had another title through the generations, that of "father of New England." His family, the Brewsters, came from parts of Norfolk and Suffolk Counties, in England, which adjoined; they were prominent among the early English landed gentry, with a position in society well maintained. Elder William Brewster was of the expedition of religious pioneers who came to this country in the Mayflower, thus it is seen that Brewster is a very old American name. He was, in the new country, the organizer and head of the Pilgrims; his Non-Conformist beliefs he wound into the New World covenants which he helped to draw; and he has left behind him honored records. His children were Jonathan, Love, Wrestling, three sons; and Patience and Fear, daughters. Their motto was the last words of the legend of the three swords, "known by the name of Armstrong." The Armstrongs were rigid Presbyterians, of an ancient and honorable old Scotch family.

To Waterproof Shoes

Boots and shoes intended for rough wear during the Winter months can be made waterproof if treated in the following way: Melt together two parts of beeswax and one part of mutton fat. Apply to the leather at night and leave for twenty-four hours. Then wipe off with a soft flannel. When first blacked the boots will not polish easily, but if the blacking is sparingly applied and allowed to remain on a few minutes they will take a good gloss after being cleaned once or twice.

General Supply Stores

"Where can I get a drink in this town?" asked a traveler who had just arrived at a small settlement in Canada. "See that millinery shop over there?" said the native, pointing to a building near the station. "You don't mean to say they sell whiskey in a millinery store?" exclaimed the traveler. "No, I mean that's the only place here where they don't sell it?" said the man.

When Hearts Are Trumps

By Virginia Terhune Van de Water

CHAPTER XLIII.

Copyright, 1920, by Star Company.

DAISY GREENWOOD was planning a little party in honor of Barbara Page's engagement.

When she told her friends of her intention Barbara began a protest.

"No, no, Daisy, you must not!"

Then, when she saw the disappointment on her would-be hostess' face she changed her manner.

"I mean," she corrected, "that you ought not to put yourself to all that trouble just to give me a pleasure."

Daisy laughed in relief. "Oh, you dear goose! Is that why you objected? I was afraid you did not like the party."

"It is a sweet thing to think of," said Barbara, "and I appreciate it for me."

Then it was about that Daisy could get the boys and girls of Bar Harbor and Seal Harbor together in a happy and celebrate the engagement of the most popular girl in Summerfield.

Of course we all came with our battered hearts," Tom White grinned, when he stopped at Daisy's on the evening that Barbara was to be at the party. "But I'm sure we'll all be on our best behavior, and maybe even Barbara will forget that she ever had a heart to break."

Barbara started nervously, then controlled herself.

"He won't come," she said.

"He may," her friend contradicted. "By the way, have you heard from him since the announcement of your engagement?"

"No."

As she offered no further information, her companion forbore to discuss the subject. She had a suspicion that something was amiss, yet it was all too vague for her to be sure.

Meanwhile, Barbara lived in a kind of dream. Every day brought her some messages of congratulation, and her friends made more of her than ever before.

Always there was Dr. Arthur's tenderness and John's gentle love. Braidon was constantly planning something for her pleasure. She had never in all her life had so many flowers and bon-bons given her. She could hardly appreciate that she was Barbara Paige. She seemed to be playing a part. And all the while she was dimly aware that she must not wake up and become her real self.

Three days after Daisy had written to Robert Elliot she received a long letter from him.

In this he thanked her for her invitation, and explained that his work would not permit him to leave New York just now. Then as if he had discharged a social duty in the first part of his epistle he let himself go.

"Barbara! I have said the proper thing! Now I may say the unconventional one!

"It is this. Barbara would not want me to come to Summerfield—nor could I stand having her flaunt her happiness in my face. Not that she would intend to do this, but I would see her happiness anyway. You know—for I am good as told you—that I love Barbara—that I have been working and striving towards one end—that of winning her love.

"She let me think I had succeeded. Now I see my mistake.

"Do not fancy that I am such a cad as to believe that she led me on just to jilt me. No, something happened to make her see that she did not care for me. At first, when she wrote me of her engagement, I almost went off my head. Even yet I cannot realize it is true. I suppose she saw that Brandon was a better man than I, that's all. That's what I believe now, and am humble and unhappy.

"At first I was mad. I admit that I had awful suspicions when I reflected on J. B.'s wealth. That I could have had such suspicions even for an hour about Bab shows I was not worthy of her. But, Daisy, I am mighty wretched.

"Forgive this outburst. You understand now why I cannot come to Summerfield.

"But since I have been invited to Bab's engagement party (think of it!) I surely may write her a note. And I am going to."

The Reason Why

"Did you notice how sour my wife looked at all my jokes? She's got a keen sense of humor." "No, she's got a dimple."

Household Suggestions

If wall paper becomes soiled it can be cleaned in the following way. Dip a clean duster in dry powdered borax and rub it all over the soiled parts. This method is more effective than using a wet cloth.

* * *

When marble is discolored wash with soap and water, then wipe dry and apply a paste made of powdered Bath brick and lemon juice. Rub it well into the discolored parts and rinse it off in clean, cold water.

* * *

To clean a satin hat remove the band then wipe the straw frame with flowers of sulphur moistened with lemon juice; then rub briskly with a piece of flannel.

* * *

To remove mustard from dishes, wash them in cold water, then wash with hot water and soda.

* * *

To remove paint from glass, wet a piece of flannel in turpentine and rub the glass with it. Then wash with soap and water.

* * *

Mahogany furniture will look well with a soft rag soaked in olive oil and milk. Then polish with a soft, dry duster. Cream and linseed oil mixed in equal proportions make a very good polish also, and a little lasts for a long time.

* * *

Bathroom taps will look best if they are polished with a tablespoonful of methylated spirit to a pint of running water. Taps will take a long time to clean if they are left dirty for a week, so it is best to do them every day.

* * *

If the ink has been taken from a bottle it can be restored by adding a little vinegar.

* * *

When knives are worn thin another knife should never be used for cutting bread, as it is going to do more harm than good in the long run.

* * *

Should a metal knife or an egg-beater work hard put glycerine in the bearings. It is a lubricant which will not taste in the food, and is not at all harmful.

* * *

* * *

To remove an stains from a cut glass vase sprinkle ammonia over them, pour in hot water and then leave off and again rinse with.

MAXIMUM returns for the minimum of effort: Flirting with a college boy, flattering a married man, or marrying a widower.

"Man proposes"—but only because woman proposes that he SHALL.

When a big, strong man breaks down it is usually from trying to keep up with some weak, little woman after office hours.

Just as you are about ready to concede that the average intelligence of the human race is improving, along comes a Ouija board or a political convention and upsets all your theories.

It's no use trying to corner popularity in this world. The women never consider a girl worth listening to until she gets married—and the men never consider her worth looking at afterward.

Dodging matrimony is like putting off going to the dentist; the longer a man defers the dreaded step, the more nervous he gets—and the harder it goes with him when he finally capitulates.

No, dear heart, there is no more danger in leaving your husband shut up in a dingy office with a pretty stenographer all Summer than there is in leaving a small boy shut up in the pantry with the jelly.

Somehow, when you see a great, big, apparently intelligent man trying to babble baby talk to a little fluffy flapper, it reminds you of a poor old circus elephant begging for peanuts.

Charity balls and garden fetes are the canned-milk of human kindness.

Why Castoria?

YEARS ago Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups were the remedies in common use for Infants and Children; Castor Oil so nauseating as to be almost impossible and the others all containing Opium in one form or another, but so disguised as to make them pleasant to the taste, yet really to stupify the child and give the appearance of relief from pain.

It required years of research to find a purely vegetable combination that would take the place of these disagreeable, unpleasant and vicious remedies that from habit had become almost universal. This was the inception of, and the reason for, the introduction of Fletcher's Castoria, and for over 30 years it has proven its worth, received the praise of Physicians everywhere and become a household word among mothers.

A remedy ESPECIALLY prepared for Infants and Children and no mother would think of giving to her baby a remedy that she would use for herself, without consulting a physician.

THE RESTLESS SEX

WATCH FOR THIS STORY IN MOTION PICTURES

"The Restless Sex," soon to be seen in all leading motion picture theatres, is a Cosmopolitan production, released as a Paramount-Artcraft picture.

By Robert W. Chambers

CHAPTER XVII.—Continued

HELEN DAVIS dropped one elbow on the modelling table, rested her rounded chin in her palm, and bent her eyes on Cleland. Smoke from the cigarette between her fingers mounted in a straight, thin band to the ceiling.

"So you are Steve Jim," she mused aloud. "I recognize you now, from your photographs, only you're older and thinner—and you wear a mustache. You've been away a long while, haven't you?"

About Stephanie

"Too long," he said, casting a sombre look at her.

"Oh, do you feel that way? How odd it will seem to see Steve again. She's such a darling! Quite wonderful, Mr. Cleland. The artists' colony in New York raves over her."

"Does it?" he said drily.

"Everybody does. She's so amusing, so clever, so full of talent and animation—like a beautiful and mischievous thoroughbred on tiptoes with vitality and the sheer joy of living. She never is in low spirits or depressed. That's what fascinates everybody—her gayety and energy and high spirits. I knew her in college and she wasn't quite that way then. Perhaps because she hated college. But she could be a perfect little devil if she wanted to. She can be that still."

Cleland nodded almost absently; his preoccupied gaze travelled over the disordered studio and concentrated on the yellow cat. He kept twisting the head of his walking stick between his hands and staring at the animal in silence while Helen Davis watched him. Presently, without any excuse, she walked slowly away and vanished into some inner room. When she returned she had discarded her working smock, and her smooth hands were slightly rosy from a recent toilet.

"I'm going to give you some tea," she said, striking a match and lighting the lamp under the kettle at his elbow.

"Thanks, no," he said with an effort.

"Yes, you shall have some," she insisted, smiling in her gay little friendly way. "Come, Mr. Cleland, you are man of the world enough to waive formality. I'm going to sit here and make tea and talk to you. Look at me! Wouldn't you like to be friends with me? Most men would."

Features Relaxed

"Yes," he said with a smile, "of course I would."

"That's very human of you," she laughed. "Shall we talk about Steve? What did you think of that cablegram? Did you ever hear of such a crazy thing?"

He flushed with anger but said nothing. The girl looked at him intently over the steaming kettle, then went on measuring out tea.

"Shall I tell you about it, or would you rather that Steve told you?" she asked carelessly, busy with her preparations.

"She is actually married to—Grismer—then?"

"Well—I suppose so. You know him, of course?"

"I've"

"He is fascinating—in that unusual way of his—poor fellow. Women like him better than men do. One meets him everywhere in artistic circles; but do you know, Mr. Cleland, I've always seemed to be conscious of a curious sort of latent hostility to Oswald Grismer, even among people he frequents—among men, particularly. However, he has no intimates."

"If they are actually married," he said with an effort, "why does Stephanie live here with you?"

"Oh, that was the ridiculous understanding. I myself don't know why she married him. The whole affair was a crazy, feather-brained performance——" She poured his tea and offered him a sugar biscuit, which he declined.

"You see," she continued, curling up into the depths of her rickety velvet arm-chair and taking her cup and a heap of sugar biscuits into her lap, "Oswald Grismer has been Steve's shadow—at her heels always—and I know well enough that Stephanie was not insensible to the curious fascination of the man. You know how devotion impresses a girl—and he is clever and good looking.

Dissecting Motives

"And that was all very well, and I don't think it would have amounted to anything serious as long as Oswald was the amusing, good-looking, lazy and rich amateur of sculpture, with plenty of leisure to saunter through life and be charmingly attentive, and play with his profession when the whim suited him."

She sipped her tea and looked at Cleland meditatively.

"Did you know he'd lost all his money?"

"No," said Cleland.

"Oh, yes. He lost it a year ago. He has scarcely anything, I believe. He had a beautiful studio and apartment, wonderful treasures of antique furniture; he had about everything a rich young man fancies. It all went."

"What was the matter?"

"Nobody knows. He took a horrid little stable studio in Bleecker street, and he lives there. And that's why Steve did that crazy, impulsive thing, I suppose."

"You mean she was sorry for him."

"I think it must have been that—and the general fascination he had for her—and his persistency and devotion. Really I don't know myself how she came to do it. She did it on one of her ill-considered, generous, headlong impulses. Anger. All she ever told me was that she had married Oswald and didn't know how it was going to turn out, but had decided to keep her own name for the present and continue to live with me."

Cleland Anxious.

"Do they see each other—much?" he asked.

"Oh, they encounter each other here and there as usual. He drops in here every day——"

"Does she go—there?"

"I don't know," said the girl gravely.

He had set aside his tea, untasted. She, still curled up in her armchair, ate and drank with a delightfully healthy appetite.

"Would you prefer a highball?" she inquired. "I could fix you one."

"No, thank you." He rose and began to walk nervously about the studio.

Her perplexed brown eyes followed him. It was clear that she could not make him out.

Natural chagrin at a clandestine marriage might account for his manner. Probably it was that, because Stephanie could not have meant anything more personal and serious to him, or he could not have remained away so long.

He stopped abruptly in his aimless promenade and turned to Helen.

BOSTON A PORT FOR MORE FOREIGN LINES

Boston's foreign trade will be greatly increased, as a number of lines are going to send ships to this port. Cargoes from Japan, China, Ceylon, Straits Settlement and Red Sea ports will be landed here by Pacific Mail steamships, while the Harber Steamship lines will operate soon a Far East service from this port.

Arrangements have been made for another sailing between Boston and Havre by the French & Canada Steamship Co., while Clay & Co. of New York, who operate between Havana, Santiago de Cuba, Cartagena and Puerto Colombia, will extend their service to Boston. Today a ship from Baltic ports is due in the service to that part of the world recently inaugurated.

Roads to Spend $700,000,000

Railroad expenditures this year for rehabilitation and betterments will total more than $700,000,000, according to plans made. The money will not be obtained by waiting for increased earnings but upon the improved credit due to the new freight rates. Equipment expenditures will aggregate $385,420,000 and be the largest item.

STEEL AND OIL ISSUES OFF

Rails and Equipments Sell Lower, While Motors, Sugars and Rubbers Heavy

By W. H. ROSS.
Financial Editor.

Stocks were weak in New York at noon, but not at lowest level of the morning. Middle States Oil was a feature, dropping 10 points and to its low for the year. Other lows for that period were touched by International Corporation, Marine preferred, Cuban American and Royal Dutch.

Oils and steels showed the most group weakness, motors and rubbers were heavy, and rails and equipments ruled lower. The market was fairly active, first hour transactions totalling about 175,000 shares. Call money opened at 7 per cent. Sterling and other exchange rates were below Wednesday's last quotations.

INDECISIVE AT START.

Indecision marked the price movement when trading began, the market having an irregular opening and a narrow range, fractional changes being the rule for weak spots, but did not find many during the first few minutes. In the later dealings one or more issues yielded a little, and in most of them they found issues with support. Goodrich and Cuban Cane Sugar each soon down to new 1920 lows. For the period between January 1 and July 31 this year Baldwin Locomotive net profits, after all charges and Federal taxes, amounted to $2,075,622.

The reduction of the dividend rate to 6 per cent. yesterday failed to create any public demand for stocks. There were few offerings, buying orders from that source. Trading continued to be professional in character. Gas issues were early features and on local buying Consolidated advanced over four points and Brooklyn Union and People's one or more. Rails were up a little as a class at the start, but receded later. The supply of stocks was found to exceed demand and prices eased off. Before the first hour was over declines were the rule throughout the list. Oils, sugars and equipments were among weakest issues. U. S. Steel and Baldwin Locomotive and Crucible the best showing in their department.

SERIOUS SITUATION ABROAD.

There appears to be a disposition in banking and governmental circles to say little about the European situation or to minimize the possible results of the Russian conquest of Poland, the general opinion in financial districts is that the situation abroad is very serious, so far as the stock market is concerned. It has offset rail rate advances and other favorable domestic influences, attention is being paid to foreign exchange rates. They are considered a barometer of what is going on in the old World. Sterling francs, marks and lire were all off a little at the opening today. As to conditions in this country, it is believed there will be only less demand upon the money market than was feared, but this is largely due to a slowing down of business and deflation of commodity prices.

ENORMOUS EQUIPMENT NEEDS OF RAILROADS

The present equipment needs by railroads are enormous, but the freight rate increase will, it is believed, enable them to buy the cars and locomotives that the country's transportation requirements imperatively demand. Estimates of what roads must spend for equipment within five years total as high as $3,000,000,000.

Traffic Manager Townsend of the National Tube Co. figures they will have to buy a million cars within that period. He points out that while the Northern Pacific puts present needs at 2,000 locomotives, 100,000 freight and 4,000 passenger and special service cars. President Smith of the New York Central said recently that it would take 100,000 cars to replace worn out rolling stock, while President Markham of the Illinois Central thinks that 100,000 cars will be required within three years.

Adirondack Power Offering

A new issue of $5,620,000 Adirondack Power & Light Corporation first and refunding mortgage 5 per cent. gold bonds, due March 1, 1956, at 84½ and interest, yielding over 7¼ per cent., is being offered by Harris, Forbes & Co., Coffin & Burr, Inc., and E. H. Rollins & Sons. The company and its predecessor, for the year ended with May last, after operating expense, taxes, rentals, maintenance and depreciation, were $1,722,884, or more than 2.3 times the annual interest charges on art mortgage bonds, including this issue.

New Lows for 1920 Touched During Morning by Five Issues; Curb Irregular

At the outset prices were irregular on the Boston Exchange, with trading dull and featureless. The morning movement was downward and by the end of the second hour declines were in the majority. The market was narrow in every sense. New England rails were a little lower. A number of copper's were weak, although as a rule they showed little alteration. BENSON IGNORES SHIPPING 'LIES'

Predicts They Will Die of Inanition; Urges Good Service to Defeat Propaganda

By Universal Service.

Washington, Aug. 5—Admiral Benson, chairman of the Shipping Board, believes that the best way to defeat the anti-American propaganda put out by foreign shipping interests is by giving good service on our own ships.

"A lie left alone will soon die of its own inanition," said the Admiral, in an interview.

"The threat of foreign carriers to divert business from American ports to the Pacific Coast is 'futile and idle,' the Admiral said.

"Not alone have their efforts been confined to our coastline, either," he added, "for we hear every day of their activities in Buenos Ayres and many of the South American ports where the shippers are told that our German ships are rotten and unseaworthy. This propaganda will fail.

"It would be the duty of all Americans to help insure the success of an American Merchant Marine, and they can greatly help by co-operating with the government to prevent the success of foreign efforts adverse to the American institutions, by routing their imports and exports by rail and water carriers of the United States to the best advantage of these carriers.

"The ships on the Munson line, for instance, report a full passenger booking both South and North, so that the foreign propaganda has not yet done any damage, either by the question raised that prohibition would prevent passenger traffic or that the ships were unseaworthy."

Stone of Dorchester, one of the conspicuous progressive Republican figures in the Legislature, has completed the filing of his papers for the Republican nomination for Senator in the Ninth Suffolk District. He also secured an appropriation of $25,000 for an investigation of Dorchester's transportation needs.

OIL CURE FAILS TO ERADICATE LEPROSY

Following a report of the special medical commission appointed by the State Department of Health to pass upon their cases, the two lepers from Penikese Island who have been undergoing treatment with chaulmoia oil in the expectancy of being cured, have been returned to the colony. While both patients have shown unusual progress, bacteriological tests showed, Dr. Victor Safford, chairman of the commission, said, that the bacilli were still in their blood. The two patients were disappointed, believing led to believe that there was hope for a complete cure.

BOSTON LIQUOR MAN APPEALS TO COURT

In a petition for George C. Dempsey of Boston, a wholesaler, it is charged that the conclusions of the Supreme Court are inconsistent and "palpably incorrect and erroneous."

MEASURES THAT WOULD CURE MOST OF THE TROUBLES AND TENDENCIES WHICH DISTRESS AND ALARM US TODAY

(1) To nominate for the Presidency by direct nomination and to elect by popular vote.
(2) To elect the Cabinet officers and make them responsible to Congress.
(3) To deprive the President of the power of patronage; to put all public offices as nearly as possible under Civil Service, and have appointments made by a committee of Congress.
(4) To elect Federal Judges, including the Supreme Court Justices, by popular vote.
(5) To apply the Initiative, the Referendum and the Recall to national matters.

Legionnaires, Protect Your Interests Before They Are Stolen

A few suggestions to the members of the American Legion posts of this State would seem to be in order.

If you favor the three-fold plan of your national organization for adjusted compensation—better known as the bonus—farm aid and vocational education, insist that the delegates to the State convention be properly instructed.

The director of the War Risk Bureau and the surgeon-general, who is the head of the Public Health Service, should be invited to attend the convention and tell all about the government's new program for the hospital care of sick and wounded service men.

It might show that, behind this campaign of abuse and misrepresentation of the director of the War Risk Bureau, a cunning little plot is hatching to dupe the Legion.

Officials at the State headquarters of the Legion declare Director Cholmeley-Jones has been extremely courteous and helpful in all his relations with them.

They resent the statement that the convention will demand his resignation and the charge that he has "rejected the pleas of the disabled." They know the contrary to be true.

Legion officials, national and State, see back of this sudden and peculiar show of affection for the service men in hospitals by those who never have cared a hoot for them before an attempt to cripple the War Risk Bureau. Senator Smoot says the bureau director has been too generous in dealing with claimants and has threatened to put him out of the government service.

Smoot has been fighting for the dismemberment of the bureau. Cholmeley-Jones has been trying to combine the bureau, the Public Health Service and the Federal Board for Vocational Education, to relieve the disabled and their dependents from needless and aggravating running around. The Smoot scheme means chaos and death to the bureau. Are forces at work in this State helping Smoot to "get" the soldier head of the bureau who has defied him?

But it is not only the War Risk Bureau director that this attack, from behind a shield of sick men, is meant to injure. The Legion's program for bonuses is the principal objective. The money jobbers and the luxury enjoyers who object to paying more taxes would deal it a death blow in this State. They would pay the country's debt to the empty-pocket heroes with kind words. That is why their organs and their agents are striving so hard just at present in every section of this State to create the false impression that there would be no money for the sick and wounded if a bonus bill should be passed.

Therefore, it behooves members of the Legion to be sure that gift bearers are not in disguise and to see to it that their convention representatives are instructed to favor the Legion's national bonus program, more progressive war risk insurance and compensation laws and a more easily obtainable public health service.

British General Sees Folly of Repression in Ireland

Nothing more clearly shows the trend of Irish opinion than the change of heart of General Hubert Gough. In command of the British army of occupation in Ireland in 1914, he refused to obey an order to proceed against Sir Edward Carson's Ulster rebels. Now he writes:

"No measures of repression or suppression, however severe, will restore order or contentment to Ireland. The Irish knot must be united by the sympathetic finger. Great Britain and Ireland would be bound together by a durable friendship if the bold course is taken now."

The "bold course" he suggests is that Britain should summon leading Irishmen of all groups and say:

"England wants to be friends with you Irish. She believes we can be friends; she wants to see you happy and prosperous. Owing to the proximity of Ireland she must have some concessions from you, such as the use of all or some Irish ports for her navy, and the denial of similar privileges to a foreign Power. As regards your internal affairs, England has duties and responsibilities toward Unionists and Ulster, and she asks you to give guarantees which will satisfy her. Subject to this, you can discuss any form of government, including even a republic, if you really wish. Britain will faithfully help you."

Coming from the chief mutineer of six years ago, this betokens mental progress. Friends of Irish freedom have reason for cheer. The night is dark, but the dawn may break swiftly.

Good for Surplus Bachelors Who Seek Wives Abroad

Accepting as true what the census forecasters say, that we have nearly 5,000,000 marriageable bachelors whom we can spare, it is encouraging to learn that by the hundreds of thousands they are going abroad for wives.

Nature assumes and normally provides a Darby for every Joan. But when the folly of man disturbs this plan by going to war and killing off the Darbies by the millions, surely no male survivor should shirk.

America's export of heiresses to endow effete dukes and lords has not worked well, because it has produced mainly a transfer of money.

But this exporting of lusty Lochinvars to found new families promises a virile and self-confident posterity, because with good new blood it will also transfer many good ideas.

To confer upon part of the next generation the benefit of being sired by sturdy American democrats will be no small contribution to the world's welfare.

The Tortoise and the Hare---Again

Copyright, 1920, Star Company.

Notice the tranquil look on the face of the hare. The hare has been dreaming the idyllic dream of a warless future when all mankind, governed under the League of Nations, shall dwell in amity, justice and perfect trust.

Meanwhile the tortoise sees a fat treasure and proceeds to nab it.

Should you blame the tortoise or the hare? At least the hare ought to wake up.

More Truth Than Poetry

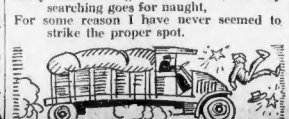
Unfulfilled Desires

By S. E. KISER

I AM longing for such freedom as the gent who farms my claim,
Where no motor trucks are making people petulant or lame;
I am sighing for the apples and the berries and the cream
And the privilege of sitting under willows by a stream,
Free from trouble and forgetting that there's anything to do.
With a glad girl to assist me—do I make it clear to you?

I AM longing to be loafing where there is no hum of wheels,
Where each lovely day is brightened by three good, old-fashioned meals.
Oh, I'm thinking of the pleasure I should find if I were there,
With a lovely maiden running her slim fingers through my hair,
Humming tunefully to soothe me, adding beauty to the scene.
Happy just to make me happy—if you're getting what I mean.

I AM longing for such pleasures as I have described above;
Cream and berries, leisure, freedom, and the lovely girl to love;
Grassy meadows, juicy apples, willows leaning over brooks.
I have seen it all in pictures, I have read it all in books;
Many times I've gone to find it, but my searching goes for naught,
For some reason I have never seemed to strike the proper spot.



DRAWBACKS OF BEING HUMAN

THEY are very great, says Science!

In fact, the race was much better off—from the standpoint of more physical well-being—when it was much lower down in the animal scale.

"Oh, to be an ape!"

The fact is (says Science), your feet were made for tree-climbing, and are poorly adapted to walking (to say nothing of French heels); the bones and veins of your legs are all wrong, for the same reason; the entire abdominal wall is exposed to injury as it is in no other vertebrate; there is a serious lack of valves in the great abdominal veins and those entering the heart from the abdomen and lower limbs, where they are most needed—but were not when the race went on all fours; there is a superabundance of valves between the ribs, where they are not needed; the mouth and jaws, made for foraging, have deteriorated in healthiness since man has become a hand-feeder; the eye is a notably bad piece of workmanship, and the nose is degenerate; the skin has lost its power to switch—which is really more important than it seems; and the left bronchial tube has developed a pernicious habit of pouring disease germs into the left lung. This is the price we have paid for our brain, says Science; but the brain is worth it! An unusually readable and instructive article in next Sunday's Boston Sunday Advertiser.

Mrs. Leonard Thomas, whom the great French artist Helleu called America's most beautiful woman, recently divorced her husband in Paris, and has come home to write more of those remarkable verses which have gained her the title of "society's poetess of passion," and —gossip whispers—to marry again. Whom? Gossip whispers half a dozen names, among them that of the illustrious John Barrymore.

Paris' most elegant actress, Mlle. Sorel, was "booed" from the stage because she wore a $10,000 gown. "Less extravagance — don't you know people are starving!" cried the mob. A band of so-called "Cotton Stockings" has been formed in France to encourage thrift. Not a bad Parisian fashion for us to follow.

WASHINGTON, D. C.
MY DEAR Dennis.
I MIGHT go out.
AS YOU suggest.
AND FIND a child.
AND TAKE it home.
AND BRING it up.
AND IF I did.
I HAVE no doubt.
IT WOULD bring joy.
INTO OUR home.
BUT I recall.
ONCE ON a time.
I KNEW a man.
A CHILDLESS man.
BELOVED OF kids.
AND LOVING them.
AND DIDN'T care.
IF THEY were rich.
OR THEY were poor.
OR CITY primed.
OR FRESHLY washed.
HE LOVED them all.
AND OFTEN times.
I'VE SEEN him go.
WITH MAYBE three.
OR MAYBE six.
OR MAYBE twelve.
INTO A store.
AND BUY for each.
SOME SIMPLE sweet.
AND GO his way.
AND THEN it came.
THAT HE went out.
WITH HIS good wife.
ONE FATEFUL day.
AND FOUND a babe.
AND TOOK it home.
AND CHERISHED it.
AND LOVED it much.
SO VERY much.
THAT AS it grew.
HE SEEMED to feel.
THAT HE must give.
TO JUST this one.
ALL THAT he had.
AND I'VE no quarrel.
WITH THIS good man.
BUT I believe.
THE LORD picked him.
TO FATHER kids.
OF OTHER folk.
WHO HADN'T time.
OR HADN'T means.
AND HE spoiled it all.
BY GETTING one.
FOR HIS very own.
AND I may be wrong.
BUT THAT'S my story.
AND I'M going to stick to it.

I THANK you.

THINGS IN GENERAL

A "Helper" That Does Not Help African War? Etc.

Copyright, 1920, Star Company.

Highly welcome news is this: "Manufacturers report a noticeable increase in efficiency in labor."

This means that there are fewer men using their intelligence in the effort to do as little work as possible in return for pay.

Not mere loss in production is the great loss. More serious to the country is the injury done to the man that deliberately slights his work and injures himself mentally and physically as well.

A mechanic was enclosing the bulbs in expensive heavy iron frames, and was attending to the wires. He was doing all the work. His "helper," about six feet high, was leaning one shoulder against the wall, holding in both hands a small roll of tape that electricians use. Perhaps a half dozen times in the course of the whole day he tore off a little piece of the tape and handed it to the electrician. That was all he did in the day's work.

The loss there was not the six or seven dollars paid to that "worker" and stolen from the city; such a loss a rich city can afford.

The real loss was in the demoralizing and ruining of a man that might have been a useful worker, earning his pay and producing something worth while. Such a "helper" as that is headed for poverty and helplessness, and there are thousands like him in the United States, every one a curse to the country, to himself, to prosperity and to the future.

There are helpers, of course, absolutely needed for certain mechanical work. But the "worker" who isn't needed, is not working and is willing to advertise himself as a willing loafer, is a public enemy.

That "helper" probably would protest loudly if he saw a rich man squandering wealth. He is doing infinitely worse, squandering his life, strength, time and the wealth that he might produce.

Africa, and the various white interests down there—Belgian, British, etc.—do not know it, but war may be coming to them.

To the tune of "Onward, Christian Soldiers," Mr. Garvey, colored man, representing many organizations of his race, marched into a great meeting, dressed in a long gown of red, "the sleeves slashed with black velvet."

He says Europe and Asia will soon be fighting for rule of the world, and that the colored men in that fight will find their chance. Four hundred millions of them will rise, and say to England, France, Italy, Portugal, Belgium, "Get out of Africa." It was a very interesting meeting.

The United States is Canada's best customer, and, barring England, Canada is the best customer of the United States. Canada spends eight hundred million dollars in this country every year.

Five hundred and fifty American manufacturers have big plants in Canada, employing Canadian labor and making cheap goods for Canadian buyers. They do this because the Canadians are intelligent enough to protect their own people. They have up there a government that is WORRYING ABOUT CANADA, not wasting time or thought on Bessarabia or the suffering savages of the Ahkoond of Swat.

As soon as we get a new government, let's appoint an intelligent commission to go up to Canada and look around.

There seems to be a rift in the little Democratic lute. Energetic Mr. White, boss of the Cox Democratic campaign, went to the White House, but, "only got as far as Tumulty."

When you read that Mr. Wilson did not invite Mr. Cox's manager to come in and talk it over, you also read that poor Mr. Lloyd George of England was announcing that he is much interested in Mr. Harding's views on the Peace League. America will be interested in Lloyd George's interest, inasmuch as Mr. Harding's view is generally supposed to be that there won't be any Peace League.

The British Minister's interest in Harding is undoubtedly based on the British conviction that Harding is to be the next President. The dead past does not interest England.

While England asks Lenin to give Poland a breathing spell, and Lenin condescendingly says "yes, perhaps," he is sending his troops against Poland more savagely than ever, and is in Armenia, stirring up Bolshevism there, encouraging the Turks.

It is one thing to start a great war, or a great fire, quite another thing to stop it.

The interesting question to this country is WHAT IS OUR SHARE IN THE PROGRAM TO BE?

You might express to your friends, your Congressman and Senators, the President of the United States, and to the various candidates for the Presidency, your opinion—if you have the opinion—that this nation would be foolish to go to war against Russia simply because some bankers of America, and some nations in Europe, want to compel Lenin to pay the Czar's debts.

Certain financiers and statesmen in this country imagine they have the right to ship Americans to Russia just as they would ship a bunch of sheep from Kansas City to Chicago; merely a question of changing stockyards. Now is the time to discourage that impression before profiteers begin their war dance, before the great "drives" for Government bonds begin, and before you are told that to object to conscription or going abroad to fight Russia is proof that you are not fit to live in America.

Later on, of course, if we are in a new war, no matter how, no matter by whom, it will be everybody's duty to fight and get the country out of it. For in spite of the late William Dean Howells and all the pacifists, "our country, right or wrong," while not the most ideal or ethical sentiment, is the only one for a good citizen to hold.
